I love to capture moments that tell the story of your special day with the ones you love, with images to that you can treasure forever.

I know you want to your photos to be as natural as possible, capturing genuine expressions, which fits so well with my relaxed approach and organic style of photography.

Before we meet

Before we meet here are some really useful questions to think about ahead of our meeting:

What aspects of the day are the most significant for you?

What's the image that's on top of your wish list?

Are there any important, sentimental shots you'd like me to capture?

Is there a person(s) you can designate to help me identify people for any group shots you may wish to have?

Are there any family dynamics you'd like me to be aware of? I like to ask this question as it can help avoid any embarrassment.

How do you feel when you are in front of the camera?

A M A Z I N G

Wow, where to start?! We couldn't be more thrilled with our wedding photos! They are absolutely stunning! So light, natural and full of life and the happiness from the day really does shine through!

Natasha is so skilled at making people feel at ease and made us laugh all day! All of our family and friends have commented on how lovely Tash was and they have been blown away by the quality of the photos too!

We are so grateful that they have captured so many beautiful moments from the happiest day of our lives!

WE ARE NERVOUS ABOUT BEING IN FRONT OF A CAMERA.

It's perfectly normal to feel a little daunted at the prospect being the centre of attention and having to 'pose' for the camera. Please don't worry over this I won't just expect you to stand there and pose. I always aim to create genuine, natural images but with a little gentle direction to help you feel that you're not just left all on your own.

I'M WORRIED IT COULD FEEL AWKWARD HAVING A CAMERA AROUND ALL THE TIME

I understand having someone photograph you all day can cause some anxiety, so I always try to capture images as unobtrusively and discreetly as possible. There are many times when I will be using long lenses, which means I don't have to get up close and personal all the time. Using a quiet mode on my camera also minimises the distraction. Hopefully, you'll find I'm approachable, friendly and that I blend in well enough for you to forget I'm even there!

WHAT IF IT RAINS?

You'll be busy enjoying your day, and from experience it's not as big an issue as you might imagine. There is often moments in even the worst of weather days to grab our moment to pop out and get some outside shots but if not, we'll make the best use of the indoor space!

TESTIMONIAL

Tash and Will were brilliant from start to finish. Tash was so friendly from the very first phone call I made to her and offered to Skype us to talk us through all of our questions.

We had a lot of contact throughout the whole process from then onwards and both.

Tash and Will were such a joy to work with! They made the whole process so personal, they didn't feel like wedding suppliers but like having friends there.

What is a Pre-Wedding Photo shoot?

A pre-wedding photo shoot, or an engagement session is a perfect way to capture yourselves as a soon to be wed couple. It will help you feel more prepared for your big day and gives you a chance to get comfortable with me as your photographer and in front of the camera.

I'm happy to give you as little or as much direction as you would like for poses and ideas. I am also happy to suggest locations depending on what kind of shoot you would like.

Engagement photos are great for using as 'Save The Dates' for your wedding too!

ENGAGEMENT SESSIONS

Why have an engagement shoot?

Thinking about having a couples session but not quite sure? Over the past few years, engagement photo sessions have become quite common among couples getting married. There are many benefits to having an engagement shoot. Here are just a few reasons and benefits to have an engagement photo session.

You get amazing photos - This reason is pretty self explanatory 'you get amazing photos'. Most couples are not professional models so they have never been on a photoshoot or in front of the camera. Let's face it for most people the only photos they have together are selfies. Having some amazing photos of you as a couple leading up to your wedding day is priceless.

It helps you get comfortable in front of the camera - An engagement shoot helps to break the ice and feel comfortable about how we'll be working together on the day. The more time you spend around someone, the more you get to know them and in turn the more comfortable you will feel with me as your photographer on the day. I love getting to know my couples and hearing all your fun stories it helps me to get a feel for you as a couple and likewise I hope it will give you a feel for me too.

Finding out what works for you as a couple - like I said earlier most couples have not been in front of the camera, you may not know what shots you like or what you don't like or maybe you do. This is great for finding out what works for you as a couple. What shots you love and what shots you don't like as much.

For one hour – it's all about you! Wedding days can be busy and be over in the blink of an eye. Couples Session are nice and relaxed. Nothing staged, not too posey. It's just you being you and capturing you both as couple.

top tip!

Combine your session with your hair and make-up trial so that you can see if you like how it feels for a few hours and also how it actually photographs. This gives you a chance to make any last minute tweaks before the big day if you'd like to.

Frequently ASKED QUESTIONS

DO WE REALLY NEED A SECOND PHOTOGRAPHER?

This isn't something that you have to have, but if you do choose to have a second photographer it can help ensure the day is smooth-running, it's great to have help when rallying your guests for any group shots you may wish to have. It also maximises the coverage of your day and can provide a different perspective, and angles of your day. Their complementary images, which will be edited by me to make our photographs work together seamlessly.

DO YOU EDIT THE IMAGES?

I know you want you to see yourself looking your best in the photos. I edit and retouch with care so if you get a temporary blemish on the day, don't worry I'll remove it!

I do try to avoid obvious, heavily-edited changes to reflect a more natural look.

The process of editing essentially involves making an appropriate artistic judgement on each photo for a cohesive collection. With minor adjustments to the exposure and crop or a conversion to black and white, for example. After this process you'll receive perfectly-crafted digital images that reflect your beautiful day and you as a couple.

We can discuss any additional retouching if you wish.

WHAT HAPPENS IF YOUR EQUIPMENT BREAKS?

We all know that from time to time technology can sometimes run into some issues. However, I make sure I have enough equipment to bring as a back-up on the day. I keep all my equipment well maintained so rest assured that I have taken every step I can to prevent problems and protect your images.

For extra peace of mind I also always shoot onto dual cards simultaneously, which ensures multiple copies of each image.

WHAT IF YOU HAVE TO CANCEL OR CAN'T ATTEND?

I haven't yet not been able to attend a wedding but, as with any supplier, it is possible an emergency or illness could prevent me from attending your wedding. In this very unlikely event, I will do my utmost to try to find a similar style photographer replacement from my trusted network of professional wedding photographers. If this is not possible, then the final, and absolute worst and last case scenario is that I will refund the money you have paid me.

IMAGES & Online Gallery

Around 8 weeks after your wedding day, you'll receive your images in an online gallery. This is password-protected so you can choose who you would like to share them with.

These won't be watermarked so you can print them, share online or create photo products. Enjoy!

SUCH A WONDERFUL DAY!

Our wedding photos are just gorgeous!

From our first meet up we knew we wanted Tash to be our photographer, she's just so lovely and easy to talk to, which makes you feel relaxed in front of the camera!

If you have any nerves being in front of a camera like me, Tash made the both of us feel absolutely amazing. She captured the fun and happy day we remember so perfectly. On the day of our wedding she blended in so well with all our guests,

AFTER THE BIG DAY

WHAT WILL HAPPEN TO OUR PHOTOS AFTER THE WEDDING?

I can only hope that my portfolio was helpful to you in deciding that I was the right photographer for your wedding. So I would like to kindly ask that couples consent to my usage of a selection of their images on my website for the benefit of future couples who might like to see my work.

I can appreciate that opinions on sharing images on social media can differ from couple to couple so you can let me know how you feel about this at our pre-wedding meeting.

Thanks so much
